QUESTION HARDING EFFORT TO CHECK GOV. SMITH'S VETO

PROPRIETY, PRECEDENT ARE QUOTED BY DEMOCRATS.

DELIBERATE ACT President Believes Nation Cannot Exist Half Wet, Half Dry.

By DAVID LAWRENCE Copyright, 1923, by Janesville Daily Gazette.
Washington.—Democrats of prominence Friday were questioning the propriety of President Harding's effort to influence Governor Al Smith of New York to veto the repeal of the Mulligan-Gage prohibition law. Far from arguing the merits of the law, the view expressed by many of the champions of state rights was that the president had overstepped tradition and precedent in endeavoring to influence the action of a state on a matter of state rights and that, if successful, the federal administration in the future would be tempted to reach out further, in extending the powers of the central government.

Blaine Bill is Laid Over

Madison.—Action on Governor Blaine's tax bill was laid over until next Wednesday by the senate Thursday.

Camden, S. C.—Screaming women, horror-stricken men, several thousand crowding, jamming spectators, surrounded the ruins of the two-story school house eight miles away this morning. Nearby, laid out in rows, were 73 bodies which had been taken from the still hot ruins. In the crowded second story hall of the Cleveland district school (white) there was an entertainment Thursday night for the closing exercises of the school. The hall was packed with children and spectators, parents and friends and neighbors. At the very close a hanging lamp fell on the stage. Inflammable material caught and a blaze started. The only exit was a narrow stairway. Into this the panic stricken audience of 300 jammed, fighting to get away from the fire. The stairway fell with its burden of human freight. And then the school house burned with its screaming, imprisoned victims. Three rooms it had, two below stairs and the hall above. When help came it was all over. There was nothing to do but bury the dead. Some escaped through the windows, others were crushed to death in the stair way. Every available doctor was summoned from all the country about. Besides the dead there are many injured but in the confusion and jam of excitement people the number and names cannot be obtained. There will be but one funeral. The blackened, charred, unrecognizable bodies, will be buried in one grave at 6 o'clock tonight, and one common sorrow will furnish the tears for all.

GAS AND WEIGHT TAX BILLS KILLED BY STATE SENATE

Madison.—The senate killed, 26 to 8, the proposal to levy a graduated license fee on automobiles, based on weight, to raise $8,000,000 annually for construction and maintenance of a 10,000 mile trunk highway system. This action followed indefinite postponement, 23 to 8, of the committee bill calling for a two-cent gasoline tax to raise $2,000,000 for support of a rural road construction program.

By its action the senate has eliminated both of the highway committee plans for raising highway funds. The Polakowski bill, calling for a gasoline tax and a more moderate weight tax, in addition to a two percent highway privilege tax, remains for consideration in the senate, while the assembly has the Caldwell bill proposing a gasoline tax, a privilege tax and the present $10 license fee still to be acted upon.

The weight tax plan killed by the senate would have established a license fee ranging from $10 on the lightest cars to $30 on the heaviest. This tax would have raised was to be used to construct and maintain the state trunk highway system.

Neither of the bills was sponsored by A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, who is chairman of the committee. Those who supported the gas tax were: Dillman, Cashman, Casper, Boardman, Huber, Johnson, Morris, Townsend.

Both the Dahl and Severson general income tax bills were sent to the floor of the legislature Friday by the joint committee on finance, without recommendation as to policy, but with the committee opinion that each should be passed.

Whole County Horrified Husband of Cult Bride Is Jailed

St. Joseph, Mich.—Attempts by the state to find Eudora Smith Moore, young married woman member of the House of David cult, who is wanted as a witness before the grand jury investigating charges of immorality in the sect, so far have produced no results other than a 30-day jail sentence imposed on her husband, James Moore, for contempt of court.

Moore was ordered to jail when he refused to answer questions concerning his girl wife and, so Judge Harry Dingemans said, will serve the sentence unless he changes his mind about testifying.

Confinement of Moore came as a climax to efforts of authorities Thursday to find the girl witness, whom members of the colony first said was too ill to appear. Later they asserted Mrs. Smith Moore had departed from the colony.

LABOR OPENS ANOTHER BANK

New York.—Labor's second venture in banking in New York City was dedicated Friday at the formal opening of the Federation Trust company at Thirty Fourth street and Eighth avenue.

The new institution, jointly organized by the Central Trade and Labor council of this city and the State Federation of Labor, starts with an authorized capitalization of $1,000,000 and according to its officers, a million stockholders.

Two other labor banks, which have been opened, will bring the number in this city to four.

GROUP IN EVERY SCHOOL, P-T. AIM

Resolutions passed by the Wisconsin Parent-Teacher convention at the closing session here Thursday afternoon, included the adoption of the slogan, "A parent-teacher association in every school," the endorsement of a five or five and one-half hour school day for the growing child with considerable portion of the time devoted to supervised study; endorsed properly regulated physical exercise for all school pupils; recommended that associations use their influence in regulating hours, dress and general conduct of students at school dances, entertainments and other activities; that parents exercise greater respect and care of public property and a greater obedience to law; that associations cooperate with the state board of health in carrying out the provisions of the Shepley-Townsend bill; that each association have a citizenship committee to study legislation; endorsement of Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts and kindred organizations; and recommendation that members take a vital interest in the movies and condemn pictures that tend to lower the standards of home and marriage; endorsement of the (Continued on page 8)

FOREST FIRES FLARE UP IN MINNESOTA

Duluth.—Fire was discovered late Thursday in a tract of virgin timber belonging to the Oliver Iron Mining company, east of Burnside Lake, seven miles northeast of Ely. The timber was reported dry and burning briskly. A crew of forest rangers was rushed to the scene.

While not unduly alarming, the fires are more serious than they seemed at first, and more men must be obtained before they can be checked, John Nelson, supervisor of the forest rangers in this district, said.

Forest fires were reported at Thomas Lake, north of Two Harbors. Forest fighters at Thomas Lake are under a handicap as there are no accommodations or shelter for them in the region.

WHITEWATER HAS CHURCH REUNION

Whitewater.—Homecoming day was observed Thursday by 250 persons who attended the dinner at the Methodist church, given as a part of the week's observance of the 80th anniversary of the founding of the city. Mr. Adams was pastor of the local church during 1883 and 1884. He now lives in Milwaukee and is the senior member of the Wisconsin conference. The Rev. J. Turner, Janesville, district superintendent, gave some interesting history of the local church.

The present building is 50 years old. Tales were told at the meeting how many members of the congregation borrowed money from banks that they might pay their share toward its erection.

At the church Friday night will be held the most interesting part of the celebration. A pageant "The Blazing of the Methodist Trail" which led to Whitewater, written by Rev. Mr. Adams and Miss Dixon.

FOOTBALL HERO IS HAILED INTO COURT IN DEATH MYSTERY

Chicago.—Charles "Chuck" Palmer, star football player and senior at Northwestern university, after being held part of the time in a cell since 1 a. m. Thursday, in connection with the state's attorney's investigation of the disappearance of Leighann Mount, a freshman, after a clash with him in 1921, was freed on his own recognizance Friday by Chief Justice McKinley. Palmer was directed to return to court at 2 p. m.

Palmer was produced in court on a habeas corpus action instituted by his sister, Miss Edith W. Palmer.

Chief Justice McKinley presented a letter to the assistant state's attorney in which Chief of Police Collins of Chicago stated Palmer was not being held with the authority of the Chicago police, that no warrant had been issued and the department denied all connection with his detention. Palmer's attorney asserted his client had been taken from his fraternity house by attaches of the state's attorney's office.

The disappearance of Norman A. Campbell, student who disappeared in Chicago Jan. 7, 1922, again Friday was called to the attention of State's Attorney Crowe, in a letter from the young man's brother in law, J. A. Moon of Virgo, Wis. Moon's letter, after referring to the disappearance of Campbell last year, said:

"I wish you would kindly ascertain and let me know if other arm of the state police, that no warrant had been issued and the department denied all connection with his detention. Bonar Law to Retire Soon; Health Fails

Paris.—The health of Andrew Bonar Law, according to information derived from persons in close relation with the British prime minister, is seriously affected and his retirement appears to be only a matter of weeks, or even days. The premier has been examined and treated by a specialist from the London cancer hospital for an affection of the throat.

OIL BLAZES HIGH NEAR GAS PLANT

Spreading from a rubbish fire to oil covered waters, a blaze at the Goose Island dump at 930 a. m. Friday, endangered the plant of the New Gas Light company. The fire was headed off by the quick work of the fire department, responding to a still alarm. The fire was within 300 feet of the plant.

Great rolling clouds of heavy black smoke brought a large crowd to the scene. Traffic on the Edgewater road was blocked by the hose line and foot of which were laid in order to get to the heart of the blaze.

The blaze brought Ira F. Wortendyke, manager of the gas company, to the scene. He was accompanied by a workman who desired to get rid of loose rubbish, spread unnoticed to other materials at the dump and then ignited the trail of oil. The fire was within 300 feet of the plant.

Hundred of rats were sent scurrying by the flames.

TRAIN GOES INTO DITCH; SEVEN HURT

Chicago.—Several persons were injured here early Friday when a Rock Island suburban train from Joliet was derailed on a short distance from the station, three of the coaches being off the tracks and the last coach overturned on its side. Four persons were killed and several others injured. The train was carrying a large number of passengers.

AMERICANS WILL BE SHOT TUESDAY BANDIT ULTIMATUM

SHANTUNG BRIGANDS IN "FINAL THREAT" IF MOLESTED.

REPORTS DIFFER Frenchman Sees Death for Captives; Yank Predicts Their Release.

Shanghai.—American and British captives of the Shantung bandits will be shot next Tuesday if the Chinese troops are not withdrawn, according to the "final ultimatum" of the bandits brought from the mountain stronghold Friday by Marcel Oliver Berube, a Frenchman, one of the prisoners who was released for the purpose.

Lloyd Lehman, an American newspaper man, who was on the Shantung-Peking express train wrecked by bandits near Suichow twelve days ago, but escaped before the bandits could take him, was taken into the Shantung hills, he arrived in Shanghai from Tsaochow with the prediction that unless there are unforeseen developments, the prisoners will be released in ten days or two weeks.

"I am satisfied that at the slightest suspicious move on our part or by the Chinese troops the bandits will kill one or two of us, and send out the bodies," said Berube.

Communications to the foreign hostages still can be forwarded from Tsaochow to the new and more remote camp of the bandits, Lehman said. Regarding the censorship, he explained, that delays in the transmission of news from the bandits' camp was due chiefly to the single wire, manned by a lone operator, 65 years old, who had to handle floods of official messages, principally to and from Peking.

W. C. T. U. Plans Picnic: The June picnic of the county W. C. T. U. will be held at the county farm Tuesday, June 26, according to plans made at a meeting of the local union at the Baptist church Thursday afternoon. This picnic is attended by members from all over the county, who bring fruit and magazines for the inmates of the institution, and present a program for their entertainment during the afternoon. The union voted to unite with other organizations in supporting the day nursery, and also decided to put on a medal contest for the July meeting.

For the program of the meeting, Mrs. H. A. Palmer discussed the question of the prophesies made that American ships would lose patronage unless they sold liquor. This she said, was proven to be untrue, and that the ships were carrying a capacity number of passengers. Also, the idea that hotels could not run without having a bar, was found to be the same kind of propaganda, as hotels almost everywhere are so crowded that it is necessary to secure reservations ahead.

Westly-Benson: The wedding of Miss Alma Westly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Westly, 1426 Mole avenue, and Leo Benson, formerly of this city, took place Thursday May 17 at 10 a. m. at the Norwegian Lutheran church with the Rev. DELINQUENT LIST MAY SHOW SURPRISES
Advice to property owners to look over their delinquent tax list, to see if any of their tracts are listed that they do not know about, is given by E. J. Smith, city clerk and acting city treasurer. He discovered an instance Thursday where a Janesville man thought he had paid taxes on all his holdings, but discovered one piece listed as delinquent. It happens occasionally that the property is booked in the wrong name, it having changed hands without the knowledge of the city, or that the notices do not reach the property owner.

EVANSVILLE

MRS. L. F. MILLER,
Phone 260-J.

Evansville: The Pioneer drug store is being redecorated.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ballard, Geneseo, announce the birth of a son, May 15. Mr. Ballard was formerly from Evansville.

The Misses Mildred Jones and Esther Brunel, who have been spending a month's vacation from their studies at the Columbia hospital, Milwaukee, returned there Friday.

W. E. Hatfield motored to Kibbourn Thursday on business. Mrs. Hatfield accompanied him to Madison to visit relatives. They returned Thursday night. Fred Hatfield also was in Kibbourn on business Thursday.

The Knights of Pythias closed their meetings for the season Thursday night with a banquet and smoker after conferring the oriental degree.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a food sale Saturday at the hardware department. The sale will be held at the high school gymnasium June 29, following the first annual reunion supper of the June, 1922, class of the Janesville high school. This decision has been made by the class organization, made permanent last spring, immediately after graduation.

The banquet for the class members only, will be held in the school dining room at 6:30. A program of an hour's duration will follow, during which old times in school will be discussed, and these not present will be accounted for. A short recess will then precede the dance. Decorations and other details remain to be worked out.

This will be the first formal affair since the homecoming and dance early last November. This one, however, is to be under auspices of this class, and it is said, will not be conducted strictly to those who have graduated.

New Girls' Glee

Club Organized

A new glee club, composed of girls of the junior high school, was organized last week, 43 girls being chosen out of the 60 who tried out, by Mrs. L. E. Jackson, director. Officers chosen were: Ellen McLeod, president; Dorothy Alvord, vice-president; Louise Farnsworth, secretary; and Eleanor Sundholm, librarian. The club is to meet weekly on Fridays.

Under the direction of Miss Hordis Hanson and direct supervision of Mrs. Jackson, a revived interest in music is apparent in the junior high school. Their singing together before the Parent-Teachers State association, Thursday was a revelation.

ALUMNI DANCE PLANNED BY 22 CLASS
A dance, to which all alumni and friends are invited, will be held at the high school gymnasium June 29, following the first annual reunion supper of the June, 1922, class of the Janesville high school. This decision has been made by the class organization, made permanent last spring, immediately after graduation.

The banquet for the class members only, will be held in the school dining room at 6:30. To The People of Janesville

I am a reformed crook. In a few days you will see me in your midst. Since my reformation I have been hounded out of one of the large cities of this country because I tried to protect the widow of my brother who was shot by the police for stealing a necklace. I am attempting now to lead a straight and honorable life and I appeal to you, your officials and the police of Janesville to give me this chance in the name of all that is fair and square to make good. Will you?

The Coffee of Unusual Goodness

First quality Orange Pekoe Tea—not a sample but a regular forty-cup package of the famous Webb Brand—will be given free of charge to every purchaser of Thomas J. Webb Coffee for a short time only.
The dealer's supply is limited. It's a case of first come, first served.
So don't blame your dealer if his last package is gone before you get there.

This is the same excellent, richly flavored tea that ordinarily commands a high price per package. It is high in quality—imported exclusively for tea lovers who appreciate the rare deliciousness of taste that comes from the more carefully selected and delicately blended tea leaves.

Our offer is made solely for introductory purposes. It positively ends when the dealer's present limited supply is exhausted. So go to your dealer now—right now, before his supply is gone. Save the price of a package of extra-fine tea and pay only the regular price for the one pound tin of Thomas J. Webb Coffee.

MASQUE PRESENTED BEFORE SENIOR HIGH

A masque, with appropriate dancing, music and costumes, was given as entertainment, Friday morning, for the senior high school. Miss Edith Zander's English class produced the entire production even without her aid. The theme was the dual triumph of good over evil. Miss Bernice Zander, university student and sister of Miss Zander, gave some excellent dance numbers, while Miss Alice Schuitz sang solos well. Others who took part were Catherine Glin, Helen Gates, Lillian Lichtfus, Anna

Helly, Phyllis Luchinger, George Schleisner, Marie Hanauks, Marian Andrews, Alfred Magill, Sylvester Tahr, Stuart Wikom, Edmond Anderson, Lawrence Schmidly, Harold Woodring and Floyd Glasse.

A Good Licking Ends This Chapter.

The eloquent outburst in the assembly a few days ago in which the constitution was summarily amended by its regularly constituted enemies, to prove that the Severson law was a violation of the Fourth amendment, wherein it provided for search and seizure have died like Dead Sea fruit on the lips of the governor's special advocates with the final defeat in the senate of his measure.

The Sachjen bill was the governor's pet hobby. It has been called the pay check to the liquor interests of the state for the large advertisements in the newspapers last fall calling upon all friends of booze to vote for Blaine. The repeal bill made the Severson law a 'dead letter' and the whole act might have been repealed after this clause was taken from it. It had 62 votes in the assembly to 33 against. It received 17 against in the senate to 14 for.

So ended the chapter. The governor in his message remarks with seriousness which he evidently could not have believed, that the clause in the Severson law was a "menace to every home." That was of course arrant nonsense. The ratio of homes entered and under suspicion is so small as to be negligible. Thursday, in the city of Janesville, two homes were entered by the police because they had excellent evidence that such an entry was fully justified. Under the Sachjen bill this could not have been done. And in the meantime some 4,500 homes in Janesville are neither menaced nor are they molested, and further, there is no probability of their ever being entered, since the inmates abide by the laws.

More homes are being built for automobiles than for folks.

More Respect for Memorial Day.

"What's the use?" It has been done over and over again. Each year there is the same effort made to hold more sacred the celebration of Memorial Day, with the same result. In spite of all of it, the public generally figures that it is only another holiday. That is all. Commander Schick of the Illinois department of the American Legion, has issued an appeal to the legion, to hold Memorial Day as something more than a mere day for baseball, golf, dancing, picnics and pleasure. It was never a day of rejoicing but a day of respect paid to the dead of the Civil war while in recent years it has come to be a day of memorial for all dead soldiers of all wars and all conflicts in which the army or navy has participated.

There is no need of long faces or sack cloth and ashes and all the accompaniments of mourning on that day for the general public. Rather it should be a day in which we remember the great achievements of volunteer soldiers and sailors, with swelling pride in nation and people. There will be picnics and dances and sports, whatever is written or whatever requests or proclamations are issued to the contrary. But before the play and the sport events should come the tribute of respect to the men who wore the uniform in the War of the Rebellion and in whose name and for whose memory the day was established in 1866. No grave of any soldier who died in any war or since should be without a flag and its flowers. That is the first duty of the young and the old. Do this, not as a duty, but as right and a pleasure and no criticism will be made of the use of the day for whatever purpose, after that.

May we not suggest to the weatherman a "Sunshine Week?"

"Capitalist" or "Worker?"

We have made the packing houses give up the terminals and cut out all other business as side lines; we have made the railroads quit as operators of coal mines and also cease operation of steamboat lines on the Great Lakes; we have been unscrambling the Standard Oil company for years but—Henry Ford makes automobiles, hitches his factory up with a railroad, or two, then he buys and operates iron ore and coal mines, goes into the timber business, and proposes to make fertilizer as a part of his corporation. Would we be unparliamentary if we called the attention of some of the largest-mouthed and most windy of the business-baiters to this fact and asked in all faith, just where the line is drawn in the matter of millions and millions of concentrated capital? Also does Henry Ford be-

LEARNING A TRADE

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN

Washington.—From New York to San Francisco in 28 hours!

In these days of setting up airplane speed records one day only to have them knocked into a cocked hat the next, such a performance is nothing to sit up nights and marvel at. But, as a regular schedule for the transportation of mail it is altogether a different matter. It is one thing to make the single air flight represented by that proposal, for all the conditions entering into such a test would be the most favorable, but to undertake to make it day in and day out, week in and week out, as a feature of a routine public service, is something else again.

And yet that is exactly what the Post Office Department is preparing to undertake. Some time this summer, in July or August, a continuous aerial mail service between New York and San Francisco will be established. For more than a year departmental officials have been carefully planning this innovation, and unless their plans go all a-wry the day is not far distant when the Goddess of Liberty can mail a letter at noon of one day and be assured that it will be received by her sister out Golden Gate way by the evening of the next day.

This will be almost four times as fast as the mails are now transported by the fastest express trains. To be exact, it will reduce the record for mail service by just ninety-six hours. That, as the slinger would put it, will be going some!

In the good old days of the stage coach thirty days would have been an amazingly short transit from New York to San Francisco, under the most favorable conditions. In the slightly better days of the pony express, the scheduled time from St. Joseph, Missouri, to the metropolis of California was eight days, or 160 hours. With the stage coach and 30 riders were required to encompass that! When transcontinental railway transportation had developed until it was all that seemed efficient, a week was regarded as a record-breaking performance, from coast to coast—as fast as anything could or ought to travel—and then came the four-day express. Now we are promised the twenty-eight hour air service, and who shall say that will be the last word in speed?

"To accomplish this service air mail pilots for the first time will fly nearly 3,000 miles, one-third of this transcontinental marathon of the air, in the dead of night," said Postmaster General New, in making public the department's plans. "These flights, with the exception of the one trans-Atlantic exploit, will be the longest sustained journeys by air ever undertaken."

Those who have directed the work are confident that it will succeed. Beyond a doubt continuous regular transcontinental air mail service will be a milestone in the history of aviation and an epic in the progress of transportation.

Leaving New York before midday the new air mail is scheduled to arrive in Chicago at sundown, then to the city by the lake, and the pilot will take the mail and start out in pursuit of the setting sun. He will not overtake it, but dawn will find him making his landing at Cheyenne, Wyo., whence another plane and another pilot will wing over the Rockies and the Sierras, reaching San Francisco before the sun again drops below the horizon. Once actually in operation the new service will probably last an hour or two off the scheduled time of twenty-eight hours for the whole trip.

During the night flight the pilot will be guided and safeguarded in every possible way, according to the officials. His route will be outlined by a series of powerful electric beacons, capable of piercing through difficult atmospheric conditions and pointing the way unerringly to the terminal fields.

Each plane will be equipped with searchlights which will be available for forced landings in case of necessity. Emergency fields have been located and lighted every twenty-five miles along the route. In addition to these precautions the practicability of the projected night flying is insured by the natural advantages of the terrain. The plains country, noted for its levelness, fortunately provides several landing places, while the lack of humidity in the air adapts this route to the illuminating plan.

"Millions of people in the middle west will witness nightly an artificial aurora borealis, rivaling that of the far north, and visible for a distance of fully 50 miles from its source, under favorable conditions. This will be created by the 'beaming' lights that will be set up on the five regular landing fields at Chicago, Iowa City, Omaha, North Platte and Cheyenne. Each of these beacons will have 500,000 candle power.

These lights, with the auxiliary lamps placed at regular intervals along the line of flight, will enable an air mail pilot flying at the 7,000 foot level to see a narrow course of light, stretched for miles across the plains.

"Two purposes will be served by the establishment of the transcontinental air mail service," says Postmaster General New. "The public will receive the fastest mail service known to man over extensive distances, and another step will be made in the United States' pioneer work in the field of aviation.

"Last year the air mail personnel won recognition for the greatest achievement in American aviation by flying 2,000,000 miles on the transcontinental route for an entire year without a fatal accident. Night flying, if it is successful, will be another feather in the cap of the post office department air service. Even though every precaution is being taken to safeguard the flyers whose duty it will be to travel at night, the hazards of this work are not to be minimized. A loyal group of flyers, whose courage has been tested by many an exploit, will undertake the experiment and if it can be done by man they will do it."

Since May 15, 1918, we have had mail service by air in the United States. The first route established was that between Washington and New York, and then the New York-Chicago service was inaugurated. Thirty months ago the transcontinental service was undertaken and the other routes were discontinued.

However, up until this time the transcontinental service has not been a through service. Upon the efficiency of the through transcontinental service depends the ultimate fate of air mail, according to the officials.

long to the "capitalist" class under the cataloging of Mr. Foster, or is he a "worker"? He must be one or the other since there are only these two classes in that catalog.

We have had the dishwashing marathon and the Gazette's suggestion for a bread-baking race is still open. We will give a prize of one furnished biscuit to the winner.

The Rockefeller Foundation has spent $75,000,000 in a work of mercy in the last ten years or since it was established in 1913. It has gone with that work in isolation of disease and study of remedial agencies to all parts of the world. It has done more than all the diplomats and nationalist organizations to establish the entente cordiale among suffering peoples. It has had a wide range in the distribution of its assistance, from a bird refuge in Louisiana to a study of the hook worm all over the world. It is far and beyond a League of Nations in influence.

From the moment it starts from the bottom of the mine, coal keeps going up.

The first measure looking at all toward economy has been signed by the governor. It provides for a one-man conservation commission and saves a considerable sum for the taxpayers.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE GENTLE DEEDS.

Who would be loved needs neither wealth of fame
Nor robe of glory. He has but to find
Room in his heart for gentle deeds and kind.
Men's eyes shall glow at mention of his name,
Recalling joys which blossomed when he came
And the sweet memories which he left behind.

The stamp of worth is printed on the mind.
In lasting letters marble cannot claim.
A gentle way when sorrow bids the sun,
A kindly voice when all the thoughtless sneer
A heart forgiving when a wrong is done,
These are the traits which all mankind revere.

Who would be loved on earth has but to find
Room in his heart for gentle deeds and kind.

SONG.

The poets say that only they Struck dumb by God will sing:
That those who know the deepest woe
Can wake Song's vibrant string.

If so it be, it seems to me
That Life's each grief and wrong
In every sense, makes recompense
When it gives birth to Song.

When it gives birth to Song,
The poet's hand is sure to bring
Germany has tendered the olive branch, but France apparently has not acquired that taste for olives.

THE NATIVE.

Sloop-shouldered and care-worn and weakened,
And knock-kneed and trembling and small,
Through traffic he scurries, and he meets all the germs.

It is queer how this man lives at all.
His rent is it hoisted each Tuesday?
They charge him nine prices for apples,
And for sugar and flour—what goes up every hour—
But he wouldn't live anywhere else.
And he would say "No!" to a million in dough
If he had to live anywhere else.

Who's Who Today

EDWARD P. FARLEY.

Edward P. Farley, just named chairman of the U. S. shipping board to succeed Albert D. Lasker, is thoroughly familiar, not only with the administration's policy regarding the merchant marine, but with the problems involved confronting the board. Many of these details were learned while Farley was serving as vice-president of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. He resigned from that office last August. Farley's appointment as shipping board head had been under consideration for months and during that time he had been acquainting himself with the shipping situation.

Farley was born in Madison, Wis., and was educated in private and public schools and at the University of Wisconsin. In 1909 he organized a company of Chicago ship owners, brokers, and insurance agents. In 1921 he went to Washington as Vice President of the Emergency Fleet Corporation in charge of liquidation and served in that capacity until last August, when he resigned to resume private business. Since then he has devoted his time to the affairs of the Lincoln Mills Paper company, being Chairman of its Board of Directors. He also is a director of the Interpneumatic Caning Company.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

An Autist at 80.

An Appleton gentleman, eighty-three years of age, purchased an automobile about a week ago. Saturday he drove his car directly into a young woman who was crossing the street in that city; the woman died as a result of the accident. Since then he has devoted his time to the affairs of the Lincoln Mills Paper company, being Chairman of its Board of Directors. He also is a director of the Interpneumatic Caning Company.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

May 18, 1883.—At a recent meeting of the Mutual Protection association of Wisconsin, home offices at Janesville, the following were given offices: M. C. Smith, president; James Menzies, vice president; Henry Palmer, medical director; S. C. Cobb, treasurer; and J. Saxe, secretary and general manager. The object of the club is similar to life insurance.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

May 18, 1903.—Matthew Blison, up for murder will not be tried until October—Janesville assessor is being urged to find some way to relieve the tax burden which threatens to drive leaf tobacco dealers from the city.—F. H. Kemp's plans for a new Y. M. C. A. building, to cost $16,000, were accepted last night. The work will be done before winter.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

May 18, 1903.—Will M. Cowles, Whitewater, was reelected president of Christian Endeavor Union of Southern Wisconsin, which closed its annual convention here Sunday night.—Spring Brook is a busy place these days with a number of factories busy, and in the course of construction, there—Janesville came out second in the county track meet at Evansville Saturday.

TEN YEARS AGO

May 18, 1903.—Rev. J. A. Laughlin, First Presbyterian church, says in a paper, one of a series, that religious conditions at the University of Wisconsin are good and that it is no longer a stronghold of agnosticism.—Rural carriers from all over the state will meet here for their annual convention May 30 and 31. Congressman H. A. Cooper, Racine, is the principal speaker.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

THE TEMPERATURE OF THE WORKROOM

Girls employed in factories are particularly susceptible to the respiratory diseases, including ordinary colds, whooping cough, bronchitis, tuberculosis, because of the fact that they obtain little or no sunshine all winter, for they go to work from work before and after the hours of sunshine; because of the dust to which they are exposed in many industries; and because of the excessive warmth of the workroom.

The less day light in the workroom the worse for the health of the worker. Employers who provide a pleasant roof garden or other place where the workers may obtain a little direct sunshine at lunch hour are rendering a public service as well as improving the health and efficiency of employees. Direct sunlight is a powerful stimulant to the manufacture of red blood corpuscles, a stimulant of metabolism, and a germicide as strong as any chemical which may be safely applied to the body surface.

The influence of dust in various occupations has been touched upon in recent discussions in this column. I should say here that the minute injury of the delicate lining of the air passages from particles which probably opens the way for infection, when the individual might otherwise escape. And if the victim is confined long hours in a dark workroom where little sunlight even indirectly penetrates, her resistance to such infections is naturally weakened.

Girls in factory workrooms often quarrel with each other about ventilation. One girl thinks it is too warm and wants to open some windows. Another feels none too warm and fears the draft will give her a cold. The result is that when these matters are left to the whims of the workers much dissatisfaction prevails.

A lot of little import whether windows are kept open or closed. The important thing is the temperature of the room. If that is regulated by arbitrary standard, the whims of the workers may be ignored. Let the thermometer

Add Small Fruits and Permanent Vegetables To Your Garden

A home garden is incomplete unless it includes some of the more permanent vegetables and small fruits in which you can enjoy annual vegetables that are usually planted.

Asparagus, several hills of rhubarb, a few plants of horseradish, strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, gooseberries, grapes, currants, and gooseberries are valuable additions to the home garden.

By having a collection of the different small fruits one can enjoy a continuous supply of good things to eat throughout the greater part of the summer and in addition have an abundance of preserves for winter use.

This bureau has for free distribution a booklet giving instructions for growing and caring for the more important small fruits and perennial vegetables. You can secure this copy of the booklet by filling out and mailing the coupon below. Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage.

Girl of Ghost Mountain

By J. ALLAN DUNN

Author of "A Man to His Mate," "Rinrock Trail," "The Man Trap,"

SYNOPSIS. Peter Sheridan, young New York lawyer, ranches in Arizona because of threatened tuberculosis. Chico, a wild, half-breed, is near Ghost Mountain on which he and his foreman, Red Jackson, discover a woman, though, how- ever, to be a ghost. At Matal, the nearby town, Hollister, rustler, and bad man, attacks a Chinaman who is rescued by Sheridan and installed as cook at the ranch. Later Sheridan is aware that Ghost Mountain is inhabited by a young woman and a giant snake. Then, hearing the rustler, Hollister and his gang are going to raid the place, Peter and Red plan to rescue the woman. They make their way to the cabin on the mountain and are entertained. The rustlers arrive and are fed waffles by the woman. Returning from a visit to the girl of Ghost Mountain, Sheridan and Jackson find the ranch has been raided and Quong, the Chinese cook, taken away. They follow and rescue Quong, who is apparent that the Chinaman has some secret which Hollister and his gang of rustlers wish to obtain.

To their right the foothills radiated the heat, backed by the higher cliffs of the range, gradually steepening into a too sheer to sustain tree life. Cactus grew thick as weeds, sprawling, pillared, branching growths of greyish blue and green, barbed, hostile, half stinging, half pulp. Here and there a barrel cactus promised liquid if they failed to find the spring. The going was hard on man and beast; the gray dust rose and settled on them, clogged like foam where they sweat through hide and clothing. After the first mile they spoke little.

An hour had passed when Jackson pointed out a purple fissure in the range. "They say you can get through to the Ploche side that way. Just a one-horse trail." The fissure widened, became a wedge, a deep notch as they came abreast of it, half a mile away. They had been looking for a sign but had not been disappointed at not finding it. There was no regular trail in such country. A man chose his own ridges and traversed them, east or west avoiding the draws where the sand shifted on the slopes.

Suddenly the mare, going gamely on though, with the roan, nostrils gaped wide and flanks heaved under the pitiless pounding of the sun and the ring of the loose soil, shied, sprang high and leaped aside. A sidwinder, hooded, grey, mottled rattlesnake, had glided across her trail, disturbed by the vibration of her hoofs. As she came down one forefoot seemed to break through into a hollow, the burrow of some creature. She drew it out, still trembling at sight, and smell of the serpent, set it down, and limped, badly, persistently. The lines that had been sinking deeper and deeper into Sheridan's face grew swiftly sharper as he dismounted and examined the foot.

"Bowed a tendon, Red," he said simply. "She can't stand my weight with that." Jackson slid off the roan his eyes away. "It's sure hell," he said as his experienced corroborated Sheridan's diagnosis. "You take the roan. I'll hoof it back to the ranch and follow up here as I can with the minto. Or I'll trail after you with the mare. Maybe that's better. She can make out if she don't have to pack either of us."

Sheridan looked at him, man to man. "I'll take the roan, Red. If it was Thora, it would be different." "Sure. Want I should shift the saddles?"

"It doesn't matter. As to your going back," Jackson, with the roan, was near- est to the range. Across a sandy draw was a dense thicket of chynas, the fleshy columns so close as almost to touch, in some cases to merge into each other. He went to the mounting sign of the roan to loosen the cinches in the double rings. A big, slightly green fly settled on the roan's updrawn hunch as it reared one foot. Red started in

TODAY'S RECIPES
Potato Bisque—Take three medium sized potatoes, boiled and rubbed through sieve, one-fourth of an onion, one-half of milk, two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour, salt and pepper. Make a sauce of the butter, flour, salt and pepper and the milk, which has been heated a few minutes with the onion. When the sauce thickens, add potatoes and run through sieve. Sprinkle with chopped parsley.

Caramel Filling for Layer Cake—Three tablespoons light brown sugar, three-fourths cup butter, three-fourths cup sweet cream, two large teaspoons vanilla. Boil the mixture until thick, add vanilla when taken from the fire. When cool put between layers and on top. If the filling becomes too hard from boiling too long more butter may be added.

Stuffed Fish—Stuff a three-pound fish with onion dressing, same as used for fowl. Bake in moderate oven about an hour and a half. Make rich cream sauce to which add hard boiled eggs chopped fine. Just before serving add one medium sized sour pickle chopped fine.

HEART AND HOME

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a high school girl and have a very dear girl friend who is in the same year at school. She is a popular girl and has many boy friends. I also have boy friends. One night she invited one of her boy friends and one of my boy friends and me to her house for the evening. We had a very good time and although I didn't try to make her boy friend like me, I could see that he did.

The next day was Sunday and he telephoned me and asked if he could come over. I had a date and so I told him so. He said he was sorry, but would call again. I did not know what to do about it, and so I asked my girl friend what she would do. She said I should let him come if he wanted to. She said she didn't love him and she had other friends she liked just as well. I used to be very much and would like to let him come.

Do you think my girl friend really means what she says and that I could let him come without offending her?

Since your girl friend has told you to let the boy come, you can probably do so with perfect safety. It was a mighty sweet thing for her to do.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please give some advice to a young man who is in love with a girl, but afraid to go with her. I have known her for two years, but only in school. About three weeks ago I met her quite by accident and we began having dates. I was careful about making friends with her as she is a very nice girl but rather selfish and vain. Her parents are very particular with her and allow her to go only certain places and she scorns those who go to places she doesn't consider proper.

She is "poppy" talented and very good-looking, with a mind superior to most girls nowadays. Before meeting this girl, the last time I had been chasing around with a pretty wild "bunch" where women were not treated as one would treat this girl, and I drank a good deal. This was brought off mostly by family troubles. At one time I had very high ambitions, but had entirely forgotten them until I met her.

She has troubled in me the desire to do right and to achieve something, but I find the old crowd draws me back now and then. The next day brings regrets, of course. She is very hard to understand and I am afraid to tell her how I feel toward her as I am afraid she would scorn me and then we couldn't even be pals. We would you do? Go away and straighten up without telling her, and then come back with a chance that she has fallen in love with another. Or would you tell her? If she turns me down I am afraid I will never amount to anything. Please help me.

THANK YOU. Until you have enough self-respect to go straight for your own sake you are not worthy of a good and brilliant girl. Happiness does not come from wrong-doing an loose living; only

VALUABLE SOAPS
Many women who have enough time to make their own beauty preparations and not enough money to purchase the dainty things they desire will find the following formula for soap well worth their trouble to try.

Those Complexion Soap—White castile soap, one and one-half pounds; white curd soap, one pound; rain water, one-sixth of a pint. Melt these very slowly together, then add one-eighth ounce of powdered vermillion. As the mixture cools stir in one dram oil of rose geraniol.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Hadden, 75, for the past 25 years a resident of Janesville, died Thursday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur M. Fisher, 425 North Terrace street, after a brief illness of pneumonia.

She was born at Harvard, Ill., the daughter of William and Mary Phelps coming with the family to Jefferson county, where her father located on a farm near Sumner. The marriage of William Hadden, whose death occurred in January, 1922, and Miss Sarah Elizabeth Phelps, occurred Oct. 3, 1873 at Sumner.

Mrs. Hadden is survived by her daughter and two grandchildren, Cleland and Ruth Fisher, all of Janesville. The funeral, which will be private, will be held at 4 p. m. Saturday, from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Fisher, 425 North Terrace street. The last rites will be performed at the Janesville, Wis. Congregational church, where interment and burial will be made in Oak Hill cemetery. Friends are asked to omit flowers.

Move on Foot to Place Guilt in Death of Girl

Indications Friday pointed to indications of developments within the next two days in the case of the girl who died Monday of Miss Hazel Kranz, 17 year old Port Atkinson, following an abortive operation. Attorneys, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kranz, Port Atkinson, are understood to be investigating.

Not a word was obtained from the girl as to who was responsible for her condition or the physician who performed the illegal operation. Dr. Will Young, Port Atkinson, said Friday, "The girl carried her secret until her lips were sealed by death, which makes it the more difficult for investigators."

Dr. Young said he was called to attend the child at her home in Port Atkinson, three days before her death. Atkinson, three days before her death, had been home from work for two days then and it was not until 36 hours before she was brought to Mercy hospital Monday that her real condition was discovered. Dr. Young said, "She had given no inkling of it to her parents, it was said."

The Whitewater physician mentioned by several as having performed the operation was interviewed, denied having anything to do with the case, and declared he never performed operations.

Coroner Lynn Whaley, questioned Friday as to whether action would be taken here in the case, said criminal prosecution should be started in the county in which the crime was committed. The death certificate was signed by Dr. W. A. Munn of Janesville.

Crowds Gather for Kentucky Derby

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.] Louisville, Ky.—Followers of the thoroughbred, completing the pilgrimage to the scene of turf thronged the bazaar of Louisville Friday, here for the most impressive event on the American racing calendar, the 48th renewal of the Kentucky derby Saturday. The weather forecast for Saturday is "unsettled."

MATHESON IS GIVEN PEN BY MASONS

A $20 gold fountain pen, Janesville made, was presented to Assemblyman Alexander E. Matheson by his brother members of the 21st degree team in Masonry, at a banquet at Milwaukee, Thursday noon. The Janesville team, led by Mr. Matheson, gave the work in the 21st degree and at dinner the presentation of the fountain pen was made by Herbert Cunningham. It was a complete surprise. Among the Janesville men attending the consistory meetings were Mr. Matheson, Percy Bolton, Robert Bostwick, Charles Jellman, F. R. Hutchison, W. C. Blumley, Harry George, William McVicar, Lawrence Caldwell, Gene Fish, Allen Silverthorn, Charles Curtis, Archie Culbert, Herbert Cunningham and G. H. Schultz.

Says He Gained 15 Lbs. Taking Tanlac; Feels Years Younger

ALONZO L. CHRONINGER.

"Tanlac overcame my indigestion and built me up fifteen pounds," is the characteristic statement of A. L. Chroninger, well-known farmer of Willow Springs, Mo.

"For two years I was in awful shape with indigestion, was fearfully nervous, could get no restful sleep and was badly run down. I lost so much weight my clothes just hung on me like a bag. Even after a light meal I was distressed by gas, sourness, a stuffed up feeling and palpitation of the heart, and the sharp pains nearly laid me out."

"But Tanlac ploughed out all my troubles and today I feel twenty years younger. I have the appetite of a school-boy, sleep like a top and keep stacking up new energy right along. I sure am thankful for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 47 million bottles sold.

Tanlac Vegetable Pills are Nature's own remedy for constipation. For sale everywhere.

COAL

BE SAFE--BUY NOW

To Our Customers and Friends:

The people of Janesville may depend upon us for facts, but we frankly admit we cannot predict the future.

We must all study present general business conditions and interpret by the light of what has happened in the past. Then decide.

If we don't have improved railroad facilities and better coal supply, and if the general business prosperity keeps us, many honest students of business conditions say, "PUT IN YOUR COAL NOW."

WE know what existing conditions are, and WE ARE PUTTING COAL IN OUR YARDS TODAY, because we cannot gamble on the future.

We cannot foresee what may happen in the next six months. We know what we can do today. "Your bin full of coal is worth more than a thousand tons in the mine."

Fill your bin before house cleaning, before the lawn is seeded and rolled, and before you go on that vacation. Your order will be delivered in turn, "FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED."

New Coal Prices

	May	June
Hard coal, furnace	$15.00	$18.25
Hard coal, pea	$17.00	$17.25
Pocahontas, egg	$14.50	$14.75

WE DO NOT GUARANTEE THESE PRICES TO REMAIN IN EFFECT UNTIL JUNE 30.

Anthracite Hard Coal Strike?

We are trying to keep away from propaganda. Nevertheless it is our duty to tell you that the anthracite miners' present arrangement expires August 31, 1923. Whether or not they will strike, and how long the strike will last, are things for both of us to think about.

Whether you buy anthracite, or any other coal, an affiliation with us is your strongest protection in times of trouble. Our large organization, big storage facilities and delivery fleet are ready to serve you.

Guaranteed Coal

Coal is not manufactured. Nature makes it. It is found mixed with slate, rock, and other impurities. Coal from the same mine often varies in quality, but we buy our fuel only from dependable producers, which have a reputation for grading their coal carefully. At our yards we do everything practical to make the fuel satisfactory for your purpose.

ADVICE IS—BUY NOW.

COAL PRICES ARE CASH ONLY

Three years ago, miners stopped selling on credit. As we must pay cash for coal, freight and delivery expense, we ask our customers to please not ask for credit.

Again Our Advice Is—

KITTEN ball, a game in which 10 play on each side and which is a combination of indoor and outdoor baseball, may be introduced on a fairly large scale in Janesville. The Knights of Columbus and the Lakota club have started things in plans for formation of inter-club circuit. Dr. J. C. here, comes forward with the suggestion that a twilight kitten ball league be formed. Almost any person may play, regardless of age or size and without regard as to whether they have ever taken part in such a game. An indoor baseball is used, slim bats and short base lines.

WHEN the nags line up Saturday afternoon for the 49th renewal of the Kentucky derby at Louisville, the race will be worth $84,000. This is in addition to the $7,500 gold plate that goes to the winner. The first derby was in 1875 when Aristides romped home ahead of the field, and won the wonderful sum of $2,850. Upwards of $6,000 will be seen this year's event, the first time in history it is being run on the second Saturday of the meet.

THERE were 28 home talent baseball games played in southern Wisconsin last Sunday afternoon. This means that 52 teams were in action and not less than 550 players were on the diamond. The best possible estimates are that between $3,000 and $4,000 persons were in attendance.

There is no telling how many were interested in the games, but the total run would be about $6,000. That's why the Gazette is for home talent ball first of all.

Two $5,000 stakes added to Aurora track card.

Sarazen and Hagen continue to win in Yorkshire golf meet.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Rock River Track Meet at Edgerton Friday

Seven schools of the Rock River Valley High School athletic association clash on track and field at Edgerton Friday afternoon in the first annual meet of the league. Edgerton, Fort Atkinson, Jefferson, Stoughton, Lake Mills, Milton Union and Cambridge will send their star athletes.

The schools will battle for the Milton college cup.

While the sky was slightly overcast and a chill breeze swept the Edgerton driving park, where the meet is to be held, the sun was warm when it made its appearance.

The meet developed early into a two-cornered fight between Milton Union and Stoughton. Union is expected to walk off with the field events, particularly in the weight and throwing events. Wells of Union is looked to take the 100-yard dash and Lewis of Stoughton to top the mile. The other events may see some close contests.

Approximately 100 boy athletes will compete.

The fifth track and field meet in Wisconsin this year. Last year, the running games were revived in this locality on a larger scale than for years past. This year sees an even heavier participation.

75 to Compete in Track Meet

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)
Monticello—Five schools of southern Wisconsin will compete in a track and field meet here Saturday afternoon. They are Monticello, Wisconsin high, Burlington, Monroe and Albany. Approximately 75 athletes will compete. This will be the last meet in this section before the state tournament coming at Camp Randall, Madison, the following Saturday.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND BOY'S HORN FOUND

A $50 horn stolen from Mrs. Percy Munger's son following the high school band's parade for the Lions club show, May 1, was recovered by children Thursday afternoon, in a gravel pit off Racine street, according to information obtained by Chief Charles Newman. It was not damaged. The instrument was hidden behind a barn, the thief apparently intending to leave it there several weeks before trying to dispose of it.

MANTHEI TRIAL TO BE HELD, SATURDAY

The Otto Manthei liquor possession trial scheduled to have been held in municipal court here, Friday, was postponed to Saturday morning as Judge H. L. Maxwell was in Madison with the Powers intoxication trial was also held open.

The greatest thrust upon us is sure to grate upon our neighbors.

JEFFERSON COUNTY

FT. ATKINSON

Fort Atkinson.—After having several plays under consideration, the seniors have chosen "The Buttoned" for presentation this year. The class has secured Ralph Schimpf, recommended by the University of Wisconsin, as director. The following were chosen for the cast: Celise, the maid, Edna Neidecker; Ollie Gilford, Wilton Owens; Mrs. Ollie Gilford, Blanche Reynolds; Sift, the maid, Harlow Klemm; Alex Fairfax, William Pratt; Mrs. Chadwick, Ethyl Blazel; Peggy Fairfax, Marian Beading; Larry Crawford, Warren Entress; Perkins, the groom, Elmer Hartman; Sam Harrington, Forbes Daniels; and Capt. Reggie Townsend, Robert Pratt.

The class play will be presented Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 23 and 24, at the Lyric theater. Tickets are for sale and seats will be reserved at Desheimer's.

Three Fort Atkinson boys narrowly escaped death Sunday while speeding on the Watertown road. They were Leslie Stein, owner of the car, Harry Slocum and Raymond Lien. To avoid crashing into another car they attempted to turn out, went into the ditch and struck the guy rope of a telephone pole. The car turned over several times and landed in a field. Stein was unhurt, Lien had his arm broken and Slocum sustained scalp wounds.

Clifford Sadler, Milwaukee, son of Mrs. Frank Weber of this city, was married to Miss Mildred Marsh at 2:30 p. m. at St. Joseph's church, Milwaukee, May 12. Mrs. Frank Weber, Norman Sadler and Mrs. Glen Stone of this city were present. The young couple accompanied them back here for a short stay and then returned to Milwaukee, where they will reside.

Mrs. Harry Rogers entertained two tables of bridge at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Royce, Whitewater avenue, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Ray Ludwig, who was operated on for appendicitis at the General hospital Sunday, is recovering.

The following pupils in the fifth and sixth grades received W. C. T. U. prizes for essays on evil effects of alcohol and tobacco: Violet Heide, first; Thelma Truax, second; and Harry Ehlers, honorable mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Baumerson went to Waukesha Friday.

J. B. Polo will leave for his home in Italy the last of this month. Mrs. Polo will go to Dakota to visit her parents.

Mrs. Maryette Chamberlain will entertain the Kensington club at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Goodrich, May 24.

Miss Edna Hunt's Sunday school class enjoyed a picnic at Ramsey's hill, Thursday.

Margaret Heide celebrated her fifth birthday by entertaining the kindergarten class of about 30 children in Barrie's park Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. George Caswell went to Milwaukee Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. James are in Elmhurst, N. Y., for a two weeks' stay.

Mrs. Ralph Bea of Los Angeles, and Ned Hager of Oatman, Ariz., called here by the serious illness of their father, J. N. Hager, have returned home. Mr. Hager is greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Graper, former residents, now living in New York, are the parents of a son, Mrs. Carl Wandschneider, Mrs. Graper's mother, will leave soon to visit them.

Thomas Serus, 37, who recently lost his wife, has sold his home on Jones avenue and will make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Fremont Smith, Milton Junction. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have been in the city and returned to their home Thursday. Mrs. Serus accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Short entertained the Pinochle club Thursday night. A 6:30 dinner was served.

Mrs. Rush Chapman left Wednesday for a two months' stay with her sister, Mrs. P. F. Daven, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Edwin Hedberg and two children started for Omaha Wednesday.

Miss Winifred Edsall will participate with a one o'clock luncheon Saturday.

wot and half dry any more than it could be sustained half slave and half free is based on the theory that the eighteenth amendment is a part of the constitution and as such is a part of the state constitutions just as much as is any other power specifically held by the federal government which it is the duty of the states to uphold.

State Right Argument.
In opposition to this line of reasoning is the contention of the state rights' advocates that the eighteenth amendment in the first place usurped the police powers of the states and that the framers of the amendment knew it because they inserted in the amendment a compromise idea when they proposed that the federal government and the several states shall have "concurrent jurisdiction" in enforcing the amendment.

Have the states, therefore, yielded anything to the federal government or do they stand on a parity with the central government? Are they obliged to accept the obligations of enforcement if they choose to do otherwise? Would it not be possible to increase the burdens of states by adding other obligations with respect to other federal laws and would this not break down the whole idea of state autonomy and sovereignty and erect a central government of absolute power?

Holds State Obligated.
These are the questions democrats are asking and the queries, to be sure, are in line with traditional democratic doctrine, just as Mr. Harding's policy is more reminiscent of the republican idea of a strong central government—the basic theories which have been the subject of debate and discussion since the days of Alexander Hamilton.

Mr. Harding feels that, apart from the legal complexities of the problem of state enforcement, there exists an obligation on the part of the state of New York to sustain the federal constitution whose amendments it has formally ratified. He is not disturbed by the argument that southern states ignore other amendments of the federal constitution but believes a developing public sentiment will some day persuade the south to fall in line in that respect too. In any event, he doesn't accept the southern attitude as an excuse for northern secession on the eighteenth amendment and feels he will rally the public opinion of the whole country behind him in that cause.

President None Dry.
Meanwhile the politicians are not overlooking the effect which this controversy may have on the next campaign. Mr. Harding again reveals himself as 100 per cent. dry and, as against modification of the existing order even to the extent of permitting states to repeal, his laws. The democrats who have leaned toward the wet side of the argument and who attribute Al Smith's overwhelming victory in the empire state to his dampness on the prohibition question, think it will aid Al Smith nationally as well as the cause of modified prohibition. The republicans think—in fact they hope the Mullin-Gore repeal will eradicate Al Smith as a national political factor.

Would Split Party?
If he signs the repeal bill, they think the public sentiment of the whole nation will rise not only against him but against the democratic party. If he vetoes the bill, the republicans think Al Smith will split the democratic party and tend to kill the wet and dry issue for the next campaign driving the two big parties so close together that no issue of importance will develop. Seldom, if ever, have the eyes of official and political Washington been turned with more interest, if not anxiety, toward the hand that holds the legislative pen in a state capital.

PROF. CRAWFORD TO TALK HERE, SUNDAY
Prof. W. J. Crawford, Doleit college, will preach at the 10:30 morning service at the First Baptist church, Sunday, in the absence of the Rev. R. G. Pierson who has gone to Atlantic City, N. J., to attend the national Baptist convention.

St. Paul.—Charles A. Lindbergh of Little Falls Friday filed with the secretary of state an affidavit of his intention to become a candidate on the farmer-labor ticket at the special primary election, June 18, to nominate candidates for United States senator to succeed the late Knute Nelson. When a man falls in business his wife tells the neighbors that he was too honest to succeed, but what she tells him in private is another story. You can't get fat on a chafing dish. NORMAL TO CLOSE FOR YEAR JUNE 9

Whitewater—The 1923 Commencement exercises of the Whitewater State Normal School will commence Friday, May 25. At 8 p. m. President and Mrs. F. S. Hyer will give a reception to all the members of the senior class at their home, 608 Main street.

On Sunday, June 3, President F. S. Hyer will deliver a baccalaureate address in the Men's gymnasium at 8 p. m.

Tuesday, June 5, the senior class will present a play "Come out of the Kitchen." The play will be presented in the men's gymnasium, the curtain rising at 8 p. m. The committee on commencement arrangements has scheduled an All-Normal picnic for Wednesday, June 6, at 10 a. m. This is a new feature of commencement week. Last year a picnic was planned but was postponed on account of change in date in the production of a normal school pageant, occasioned by stormy weather.

Thursday, June 7, is "Honors" day for the Normal school. The various gold and silver medals given annually to honor students will be awarded at 10 a. m. These exercises will be held in the Normal assembly room.

Normal High Commencement.
The Normal high school class of 1923 will hold its class day exercises in the Normal assembly room Thursday, June 7, at 8 p. m. The high school commencement exercises will be held in the men's gymnasium Thursday, June 7, at 8 p. m. Superintendent F. O. Holt, Janesville, will give commencement address.

The last Friday of the school year June 8 served for the alumni. The annual day program commenced at 3 p. m. when the class of 1923 will present the class day exercises in the men's gymnasium. At 4:30 p. m. a select team of famous alumni baseball stars is expected to play the regular Normal school team. The alumni reception will be held at 6 p. m. followed with the annual alumni dinner at 7 p. m.

The final event of the school year will be the commencement exercises to be held in the Men's gymnasium, Saturday, June 9, at 10 a. m. The Normal school senior class will assemble in the main building at 9:30 a. m. The processional will commence promptly at 9:45 a. m.

The senior class, followed by the Normal School Faculty, will march down the winding path of the South campus to Main street, then down Graham avenue, to the men's gymnasium. The commencement exercises will start at 10 a. m. and include an address by President W. A. Ganfield of Carroll College. On behalf of the Normal School Board of Regents, President F. S. Hyer of the Whitewater State Normal School will award the diplomas. The Commencement program follows: Processional, "Marche Militaire," Schubert, Normal orchestra, "Nightingale and Rose," Schubert, Treble Clef; Prayer, Rev. Allen Adams; Violin solo, "Souvenir de Lubek," Block; Harriet Backus commencement address, President W. A. Ganfield; "The Birth of the Flowers," Normal Quartet; diploma presentation, Pres. Frank S. Hyer; "Moonlit Meadows," Chabrier; Glee Club Semi-Chorus.

PROF. SMITH WILL MAKE WIXOM TEST

Prof. E. G. Smith, head of the chemistry department of Beloit college, will make the test of the contents of the stomach of Oscar E. Wixom, former deputy sheriff and policeman, found dead in front of his home on South Main street here May 3, under peculiar circumstances.

Announcement that Prof. Smith would make the examination was made by District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie, who shied at the proposal of Prof. A. S. Lovenshert, Madison, to make a complete test for 31,000 and a test for one kind of poisoning for $500. Mr. Lovenshert is head of the department of pharmacology and toxicology, University of Wisconsin. The latter test would require two months, he said.

The contents of the stomach have been taken from Madison to Prof. Smith at Beloit by District Attorney Dunwiddie, and the analysis is expected to be completed in the near future.

"Prof. Smith's charges will be considerably less than the figures quoted at Madison," said Mr. Dunwiddie. "Mr. Smith was ill when we first asked him to make the test, but he has recovered. In the meantime the manslaughter cases of Irving Hanson, Milwaukee, and Dick Mann, Janesville, will be held open. It is expected, as it is felt that the outcome of the test will make more certain the cause of Wixom's death. Whether he died from poisoning from the gin he drank, exposure, a fall on the Jackson street bridge, or a combination of two or all of those details are not prepared now to state.

A complete report on the autopsy performed on Wixom's body has been filed with County Coroner Lynn A. Wixley by Dr. T. J. Sandgrasse and Dr. Fred E. Sutherland, who made the postmortem the day he was found dead.

The doctors found Wixom to be 5 feet 9 inches in height, with a 30-inch waist and 35-inch chest, well nourished and well developed. Several bruises and abrasions were discovered, as follows:

Small abrasion halfway between right eye and right ear; three small scratches over the nose, left cheek, and three small abrasions near the left eye; small wound about one centimeter long on the right occipital region; a cut four inches behind the top of the right ear, with slight amount of blood and depression underneath which was about the size of the index finger; bruises about one inch square over the external occipital protuberance; no evidence of external injury on the back.

No evidence of heart disease was seen.

STATE HIGHWAYS LITTLE CHANGED

Milwaukee—Road conditions throughout the state have remained practically unchanged this last week, the rain of the early part of the week having interfered but little with traffic, according to the Milwaukee Journal's road department.

Highway 12 is still the best route to Madison. There is a short detour at Portland and a rough place around Hubblton. Highway 41 is under construction and not advisable for travel.

There is still a short detour on 57 just outside of the city, the detour being about a mile long and over a good gravel road.

Highway 17 is in fairly good shape to Manitowish. There are two detours on the route but both are well marked and passable.

Highway 18 north is open and the bridge at Dehlig has been repaired. Highway 22 at Rosendale is closed for construction; a detour is provided.

For La Crosse, would suggest 13 to Madison, 12 to New Lisbon and 21 to La Crosse.

Highway 61 is still the best route to Beloit, and 61-20 to Janesville.

Appleton to Seek 1924 Bar Meeting

Appleton will make a determined effort to land the 1924 convention of the Wisconsin Bar association, which holds its 1923 meeting in Janesville, June 26-28, according to reports from that city. At a meeting of the Outagamie Bar association this week at Appleton it was voted to extend an invitation at the time of the meeting here next month. A number of Appleton attorneys and their wives are expected to make a trip to Janesville to host their town as the next convention city.

BRIEFS BY WIRE

Paris.—The situation between Turkey and Greece, due to their failure to settle the reparations problem, is so serious that the success of the Near East conference at Lausanne is doubtful, dispatches said.

Paris.—The military occupation of Germany is not necessary to the security of France but is an operation designed to coerce Germany into paying reparations, Premier Poincaré said.

CITY TO ANNEX RIVERSIDE PARK

Annexation of Riverside park to the city of Janesville, so that it can be under municipal supervision and have police and fire protection, will be recommended to the city council at its regular meeting at 7:30 next Monday night by the city plan commission.

The commission's recommendation was adopted at a meeting in the city manager's office Thursday afternoon, when City Attorney Roger C. Cunningham was called in to explain the process of annexation. The matter was also discussed, together with the proposition of getting the grounds in condition for use by the public. The 132-acre tract was purchased by the city late in 1922 and a topographical survey of it is now being made by the city engineering department.

would soothe that itching skin

The first application of Resinol Ointment usually takes the itch and burn right out of eczema and similar skin affections. This gentle, healing ointment seems to get right at the root of the trouble and is almost sure to restore skin health in a short time.

through the mountains on Electric Power

Almost as wonderful and interesting as the natural scenes that ride beside you on your way to Puget Sound is the electrical operation of your train over the mountain divisions of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

Through the Belts, the Rockies, the Bitterroots and the Cascades, the thousand-ton, all-steel train is drawn by electricity—the harnessed might of the mountain torrents. Its flight is incomparably smooth, even and sustained—no cinders, no smoke, no soot; no jarring, grinding or jerking.

The "Milwaukee" is the only electrified road through the mountains, and the longest electrified railway in the world.

Its crack transcontinental train is the famous "Olympian," in daily operation between Chicago and Puget Sound, over the most progressive railway in the world.

Lowest rates for summer travel will be in force this season on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul to all points West—May 15 to Sept. 30. Final return limit, Oct. 31.

Fine Clothes—

My fixtures are not fine—but I'm not selling fixtures—I'm selling Men's Clothes.

And because my expense is low and I'm not a glutton for profit, I can sell at a price that gives you the biggest package of value that you have seen in a long while.

Lots of men are under the impression that it is necessary to pay a high price for a good suit. They are the men I want to see.

I can show you the finest tweeds and worsteds and I don't have to look the other way when the price is mentioned.

Every suit I sell is guaranteed to be all wool and satisfactory in every way and my price is limited both ways.

When You Read Our Advertisements

You can rely upon our advertisements as statements of indisputable facts. We do not exaggerate nor claim things that are not true.

Until we have conclusively proven to you that "if you see it in a J. C. Penney Company advertisement, its value is real," we have more work to do.

We do not quote comparative prices nor say what an article is worth. If it was worth more than we ask, we would name the larger price.

Our prices are far lower than the average quotation because of the large buying for our 371 Stores.

You save by our collective buying.
